The demand for seats for the Harvard-Cornell game at Manhattan Field next Saturday began Monday morning, when an order for 55 additional tickets was received. The posters on the elevated rainoads have stimulated the local demand, and the prospects are that fully loces will attend this match. It will be Harvard's only appearance in this vieinity this season, and the surprising strength shown by Cornell in the Princeton-Cornell match has raised her immensely in public esteem, and rendered the result of the Harvard-Cornell match a matter of some doubt.

Searcey and Morganfield had been clearly established.

Officers of the Adams Express Company here will give no information as to whether Searcey made at company building awaiting transportation to Frederickshurg. The local police authorities known by the express people to recover the stolen money, but they believe that Searcey has raide a statement implicating himself and Morganfield.

John Mackey, of the Rancho del Paso, California, is expected to arrive in this city to-day. He intends to ship J. B. Haggin's entire importation, which has been quartered at Monmouth Park since its arrival, to California, on Saturday. The consignment consists of Goldinch, Watercress, the yearlings and two-year-olds, and the brood-mares. The aforementioned lots are among the most exand discipline of the State troops of New-York.

The report recommends:

First—That a larger share of the expense attending the support of the organized milling should be borne by the National Government.

Second—That Army officers of rank, experience, energy, and studious habits should be freely detailed for duty at State encampments when asked for.
